Show Content

All of Viv Gordon Company's work speaks about experiences of child sexual abuse, as our work is a creative campaign to increase voice by, with and for our community.

The show specifically speaks about Viv's autobiographical story from sexual abuse in childhood, to finding community and activism in adulthood. She also talks about dissociative amnesia and remembering, connected to her experience of abuse; reframing it as part of her survival story.

There will be a wellbeing support person and signposting information available for anyone who needs it.

It is a relaxed environment so it is ok to move, cry, make noise or to leave - We have fidget toys and tissues available in the space for audience use.

A lot of survivors have seen the show and recommend it. They were glad to be in a space where CSA is acknowledged and talked about. They found it empowering and connecting.

If you would like more detailed information about show content ahead of attending or booking tickets, please contact us and we'll be happy to help.

Additional Access Information

All of our events are relaxed; you can come and leave as you wish to, move around; whatever feels right for you.

There will be stage lights. Flickering lights are used once in the show, for approximately 30 seconds. Within the 30 seconds of flickering, the light level intensifies.

The seating is separate chairs, placed around the stage area, on all sides. Seats are not allocated in advance, so you can select where you would like to sit when you arrive.

As the audience arrive, Viv will be there to welcome everyone into the space.
